How Many Pieces Of Pie?

Some tasty wedges of pie are contemplated by Mark Wiley, 3, of Campground Rd. as he leans on a 99 - pound pumpkin grown by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Drake of the Irish Ridge Rd. Mr. Drake, who raises 30-pound and 35-pound pumpkins as a rule in his truck garden, said he was somewhat surprised with this giant which measures 74 1/2 inches in circumference.

Mark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wiley, may be disappointed at the prospects of the big pumpkin. Drake reports it will be used as a seed pumpkin in efforts to raise other giant specimens next year.

But there will be plenty of other large ones for pie filling and cattle feed, Drake hastened to add.

President's Day To End In Hospital

Removal Of Gall Bladder Scheduled Tomorrow Morning

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson packed with ceremonies and speeches today a day that will end in a hospital bed, just one month after he first felt the pain of a defective gall bladder.

Friday morning, surgeons will remove the faulty organ at Bethesda Naval Hospital.

But today, Johnson seemed determined to show that his ailment is not slowing his presidential pace.

Three ceremonial signings and two speeches were on the schedule before Johnson leaves the White House for the 18-story hospital in suburban Maryland.

He will be there 10 to 14 days. His schedule included:

— The signing of a bill to provide federal grants for water and sanitation facilities in rural communities, complete with a speech before congressmen and federal officials, in what has become an almost daily routine.

— Designation of White Cane Safety Day.

— Proclamation of a Day of Prayer. "This is an annual thing, incidentally," said assistant White House press secretary Joseph Laitin, "that there's nothing particularly significant about."

Johnson was scheduled to make speeches at the White House before delegates to a symposium on water desalination, and at a salute to Congress in the State Department Auditorium.

Johnson will go to the salute to the 89th Congress with Mrs. Johnson early this evening. It is to be followed by a congressional reception at the White House, but Laitin said Johnson probably will not attend that.

Sometime later tonight, the President and Mrs. Johnson will head for the hospital, probably by automobile. There, Johnson will stay in a third-floor suite, and Mrs. Johnson will have a room nearby.

So will Dr. George A. Hallenbeck, who will perform the operation Friday, and Dr. James C. Cain, a consultant and the Johnson family physician.

No time has been announced for Johnson's admission to the hospital, or for the operation itself.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, ready to act if some unexpected presidential decision becomes necessary during what Johnson called a "minimal time" he will be unable to conduct business, is due back from Minneapolis during the afternoon.

The 57-year-old President first experienced the pain of his ailment a month ago today, at the LBJ Ranch in Texas. It awakened him early in the morning, and he told Mrs. Johnson, Vice Adm. George G. Burkle, the White House physician, examined Johnson in his bedroom — and said the trouble might be in his gall bladder.

A series of X rays proved that diagnosis correct.

President Receives Cable From Pope Paul

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, about to enter Bethesda Naval Hospital for a gall bladder operation, said Wednesday night he had received a "nice cable from the Pope."

The President made the comment at a White House reception when a reporter said: "I know you'll be in good shape because I know Pope Paul will be praying for you."

The White House did not release the contents.

First Direct Entry In Engagement

U. S. Forces In Viet Nam Enter Battle At Qui Nhon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. forces have entered the fighting around Qui Nhon and killed 18 Viet Cong, a U.S. spokesman announced today.

U.S. paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Brigade combed rice fields just north of the coastal city in central Viet Nam Wednesday and killed 17 guerrillas, the spokesman said.

The U.S. Army's 1st Cavalry Division also was reported in action in the Qui Nhon area, killing one Viet Cong and detaining two suspects about 10 miles west of the town.

It was the first direct entry of U.S. troops into the continuing fighting between the Vietnamese army's 22nd Division and elements of four Communist regiments north of Qui Nhon.

The Reds there have suffered heavy casualties in several major battles in the last two weeks along Highway No. 1 and around the Phu Cu Pass.

Meanwhile, the rest of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division began arriving in Viet Nam to swell the total number of American troops in the embattled country to more than 140,000.

In Washington, the Defense Department disputed Peking's claim that a U.S. Air Force jet was shot down over Communist China Tuesday.

The South Vietnamese army claimed its forces killed 13 Viet Cong in one operation in Vinh Binh Province, 75 miles southwest of Saigon. Enemy action during the past 24 hours was reported sparse in comparison with the series of battalion-size attacks in the Mekong Delta and along the central coast earlier in the week.

The U.S. spokesman said the paratroopers operating north of Qui Nhon Wednesday picked up 54 Viet Cong porters, all of them over military age, and 10 suspects. One of the bearers led the Americans to 10 tons of hidden rice.

The spokesman said American casualties in the operation were light. No casualties were reported by the air cavalry troops west of Qui Nhon.

The spokesman said U.S. and Vietnamese planes flew 198 sorties against suspected Viet Cong concentrations in South Viet Nam in the past 24 hours. More than half were in the 3rd Corps area surrounding Saigon.

The carrier Oriskany sent 16 Skyraider bombers on missions over North Viet Nam during the night. The spokesman said army barracks 65 miles south of Hanoi were among the targets destroyed.

Other U.S. planes loosed 880,000 propaganda leaflets over the Gulf of Tonkin for wind currents to carry them over the Red River delta east of Hanoi, the spokesman said.

About 2,300 men of the 1st Division landed at Vung Tau, 45 miles southeast of Saigon. Nearly 9,000 more were on the way to join the 4,000 members of the division already in Viet Nam. U.S. officials said landing operations would go on for some time.

Commission Meets With 7 Delegates

Demonstration Set Concerning Phillis, Withheld Pay Of 12

LISBON — A delegation from a group protesting County Home policies and the Columbiana County commissioners were meeting here today as the aftermath of an order calling for the dismissal of Russell V. Phillis as superintendent of the home.

The meeting got under way after some 200 had crowded into the main hall at the Courthouse in an orderly demonstration against the removal action and other policies.

Commissioner Max Gard announced late this morning that the commissioners were hearing the complaints of the group.

Gard said it is doubtful, however, if a statement will be issued. "We have taken our stand on these matters and the next step will be to hold a Civil Service Commission hearing at Columbus."

Gard said he did not know when that hearing will be held. Gard and Frank Wilson, president of the commissioners, signed the letter for Phillis' dismissal. James Boyd, the other commissioner, did not.

Albert Hartley of Columbiana, one of the demonstrators, pointed out that Phillis' action was not the sole reason for the demonstration.

He said 12 employees of the home, hired in August by Phillis, have not received their pay because of the dispute between the superintendent and the commissioners.

Also, some businessmen have not been paid for items sold to the County Home's farm operation. He singled out Jack Grubb of Grubb Brothers Co. as not having been paid for lime delivered to the farm.

The commissioners sent Phillis a notice of discharge Monday, saying he was released, effective Friday, because of improper performance of duties.

The two Democratic commissioners spelled out various alleged violations of conduct, such as drunkenness, abuse of home

Red Chinese Alarmed

Sources Point To U.S. Buildup In Southeast Asia

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — For several weeks the United States has been receiving reports from Eastern European Communist sources that the leaders of Red China are becoming alarmed at the American military buildup in Southeast Asia.

Well-informed Washington officials believe the reports are substantially correct. They are convinced that the Chinese high command is beginning to understand the extent of the U.S. commitment in South Viet Nam, and specifically the Johnson administration's determination to prevent a Communist takeover there.

The Chinese alarm is assumed here to be based on fears about how extensive the expansion of U.S. military power will be, how long the forces will remain so close to Communist Chinese territory and whether the United States might on some pretext attack China.

There has been no indication, high officials say, that the concern in Peking has caused any veering of Chinese policy toward a negotiated settlement in Viet Nam.

On the contrary U.S. authorities judge that Peking's evident fears are creating a more hostile attitude toward the rest of the world and particularly the United States.

It is assumed that Peking is exhorting the leaders of North Viet Nam to harden their determination to pursue the war in South Viet Nam. In spite of the fact that U.S. actions have blunted North Viet Nam's offensive plans for the current monsoon season, there is no hint of early peace talks.

This present assessment by U.S. policymakers represents a considerable change of attitude since last spring. At that time, there was strong hope here that if the Viet Cong's monsoon offensive could be stopped by a U.S.-South Viet Nam drive, the North Vietnamese would be ready for peace talks by the end of the year.

So far as the Chinese Communists are concerned South Viet Nam is apparently the sore point of a complex of crises clustering around the Red Chinese frontiers. Foremost among these is the Moscow-Peking rivalry for leadership of Communist parties over the world and for influencing neutral countries — a race in which the Soviet Union with its greater power and aid potential seems to be still well ahead.

Within the last week, Premier Chou En-lai said the Communists would unhesitatingly join the North Vietnamese if the United States continued its "war expansion" in Southeast Asia.

But many authorities here believe the Chinese in such statements are covering up weakness with words and reverses with bluster.

While President Recuperates

Humphrey Has Canceled Speeches For Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has canceled all his speaking dates next week to be on hand while President Johnson recuperates from surgery.

But if all goes well for the President after his gall bladder operation Friday, Humphrey will plunge the week beginning Oct. 18 into a schedule of appearances akin to that of a presidential campaign.

Nobody expects Humphrey to have to make any emergency decisions during the time the President is hospitalized. However, the vice president felt he should be at the President's beck and call for at least 10 days after the operation.

Scheduled Humphrey appearances in New York City; Kansas City, Mo.; Kansas City, Kan.; a campaign tour in New Jersey in behalf of Democratic Gov. Richard J. Hughes, and a speech before the Business Council in Hot Springs, Va., have been wiped out.

But if there are no adverse developments, Humphrey will

Soviet Luna 7 Due To Reach Moon Today

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's Luna 7 spaceship was reported 36,000 miles from the moon and on course 13 hours before it was scheduled to reach the lunar surface about 6 p.m. (EDT).

The official news agency Tass said all systems aboard the unmanned spaceship were functioning normally.

There still was no word on whether Luna 7 would attempt the first soft landing on the moon, but a Soviet publication issued today said there was little doubt such a landing could be accomplished. It did not specifically refer to Luna 7.

In a soft landing the space vehicle would land intact on the moon's surface, enabling it to send signals back to earth. Both the United States and the Soviet Union have indicated they hope to do this before 1970. Such a step is a necessary preliminary to landing a man on the moon.

A first Soviet attempt to make a soft moon landing crashed May 12. The second attempt missed the moon June 11.

Operations To Raise Barge Get Under Way

Work was to begin today in the raising of a coal barge that sank in the Ohio River off Smiths Ferry after a collision of two towboats in the heavy fog early Wednesday morning.

The collision was between the LaBelle, owned by the Wheeling Steel Corp. and downbound with 10 barges loaded with coal, and the Franklin Pierce, operated by the Thomas Petroleum Co. of Butler, Pa., and upbound with four barges of petroleum. The salvage operations will be carried out by the Crane Brothers of Pittsburgh. The barge was loaded with 1,200 tons of coal.

The barge is marked by a buoy. Attendants at Montgomery Island Dam at Ohio View said the work derrick was locked through at 10:15 a.m. today.

Truck Driver Injured When His Rig Upsets

A Wellsville truck driver was injured when his tractor-trailer rig upset on Route 7 near the intersection of Route 213 at Yellow Creek at 9:18 a.m. today. The rig is owned by the Kaul Clay Co. of Toronto, according to the Wintersville State Highway Patrol. The driver was William Williams of 2004 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, who was admitted to City Hospital with contusions and possible fractures of the foot and ankle.

Hidden, 'Bobbling' Gallstones

Surgeons Will 'Explore' During Johnson Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP) — When a team of crack surgeons operates on President Johnson Friday to remove his ailing gall bladder with its offending gallstones, they'll undoubtedly explore elsewhere for hidden, "bobbling" gallstones.

The latter are stones that may have wandered from the gall bladder down into the "handle" of a Y-shaped system of tubes channeling bile from both the gall bladder and the liver to the intestine.

Such stones, whose presence could be missed by X ray examinations, that detect larger aggregations, can "bobble around" inside the tube without actually blocking it, surgeons say. But they can be detected by a surgeon's exploring fingers and should be removed lest they eventually cause a real roadblock in this vital channel.

Surgeons routinely probe for them even in cases like Johnson's where all evidence points against any blockage of this tube, called the "common bile duct."

Surgeons not associated with Johnson's case described the odd possibility to a reporter when asked to give a preview of what Johnson's operation would be like—and things the operating team would look for and do, aside from the main job.

Here's a kind of play-by-play of the procedures:

After the President is anesthetized, an 8-inch-long incision will be made in the upper right part of his abdomen, opening the abdominal cavity.

Surgeons would then explore other organs in the cavity—for example the pancreas, another organ vital to digestion—to see if any had become inflamed by any leakage of bile from the faulty gall bladder.

Bishops Clash At Vatican On Nuclear Issue

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Bishops at the Vatican Ecumenical Council clashed today on whether the Roman Catholic Church should condemn all nuclear weapons or accept some as defense arms.

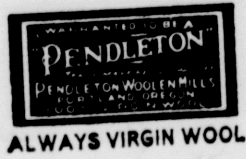

Prelates from Communist Poland, Spain, France and England threw their support to a view favored by many U.S. bishops that the use of modern arms is legitimate in some cases.

Other prelates, including a French and Italian cardinal appeal for an outright condemnation of war in every form, nuclear or conventional.

Many members of the council also want the church to accord a new positive status to sincere conscientious objectors.

Some of the bishops say the church should recognize that convinced conscientious objectors have a special vocation, or calling, like men called to the priesthood.

County Unit Aims Bid For Merger

LISBON — A proposal to form a joint "war on poverty" program with Carroll County was discussed during a meeting of the Columbiana County Community Action Council executive board Wednesday night at the Village Hall.

A. D. Pacifico of the Ohio Economic Opportunity office said the bi-county operation has been proposed as a means of saving administration costs.

Pacifico pointed out, however, Carroll County has not yet organized a Community Action Council. The county executive group indicated it was concerned that the Columbiana County application for planning funds would be delayed should the program wait upon the Carroll County program.

Fred Simmen of East Liverpool, chairman, said additional data needed for the county's application will be forwarded as soon as possible in an effort to obtain the needed funds to launch the county program.

Britain Conservatives Urge Red China In UN

LONDON (AP) — Britain's Conservative party called again today for admission of Communist China to the United Nations. At the same time the Tories blamed Peking for "the immediate threats to peace" in Asia.

In its first policy statement since Edward Heath became party leader, the major British opposition party also attacked the Labor government's reluctance to promise future British association with the European Common Market.

Kapp Cites Legal Point

With No Question Asked, Hit-Skip Count Dismissed

Because no one asked a motorist to identify himself after a collision with a halted tractor-trailer Monday night on Harvey Ave., the driver is not guilty of a charge of leaving the scene of an accident, Acting Judge Robert A. Kapp ruled today in Municipal Court.

The acting judge dismissed the charge against Bobby W. Byers of R. D. 1, but fined him $25 and costs on a plea of guilty to a charge of failure to stop within the assured clear distance.

Patrolman Paul Blevins filed the two charges against Byers as a result of a mishap in which Byers' 1960 station wagon hit the rear of a big rig owned by National Truck Leasing, Inc., of Niles.

In issuing the ruling, the judge pointed out that the law requires any person involved in an accident to stop "and on request" give his name, address and other pertinent information.

"I see no evidence that he was requested to give information and for that reason the court finds the defendant not guilty," the judge said.

Two youths accused of speeding 35 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone on Broadway Wednesday night at 9:20 were fined $15 and costs each. Guilty pleas were filed by the two—Gerald L. Hughes, 927 Orchard Grove Ave., and Donald L. Bennett of Wellsville R. D. 1. They were cited by Patrolmen Blevins and Karl W. Samples.

Dominic A. Polsinelli of Mingo Junction forfeited a $17.50 bond on a charge of speeding 75 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. He was cited Sept. 25 by the State Highway Patrol.

Fleming G. Gordon, 45, of 431 Riverside Ave., Wellsville, was fined $35 and costs on a charge of driving without an operator's permit and $5 and costs on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He pleaded guilty to both counts.

Gordon was cited Friday night on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. by the patrol. He told the judge he has a West Virginia driver's license, but said he has resided in Ohio four years.

Norma Helen Blakeley, 22, of McCoy Ave., Oakmont, was fined $25 and costs on a charge of driving without a license. She pleaded not guilty to a charge of driving at a speed too great for existing road and weather conditions. Her hearing on the second charge was continued until Friday at 9 a. m.

She was cited by the patrol after a one-car crash on McCoy

Ave. Sept. 24. Questioned by the court, the young woman said she never possessed a driver's license. Lack of a license is a "serious offense" under Ohio law and it can lead to a heavy fine as well as a jail sentence, the judge told her.

Jerome Drago, 410 Broadway, Wellsville, is due for a hearing Oct. 28 on a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone on the city Freeway. He was cited by the patrol Wednesday at 4:20 p. m.

2 Men Held, Driver Flees During Theft

MOUNT SUMMIT, Ind. (AP) — The driver of the getaway car took off during the hold-up and so the authorities are now holding two men on charges of robbing the local branch of the Citizens State Bank of New Castle, Ind.

The suspects were identified as Elton Winchester, 25, Cincinnati, Ohio, and Nicholas Papascodino, 31, Chicago.

Things started going wrong with the $3,640 robbery soon after the bandits entered, tied up two bank employes and two customers with adhesive tape and forced two other customers to lie on the floor. All the customers walked in during the robbery.

A woman living across the street from the bank thought it was odd that the window shades should be drawn. She called the Henry County Sheriff's Office.

Two deputies responded with sirens screaming. While they were still a couple of blocks from the bank, two men dashed out, looked around and ran into a cornfield.

Police converged from all sides and Winchester walked out of the field saying, "I'm just too tired to go on." Officers said he was waving a handkerchief.

Papascodino was run up a tree by police dogs.

Chief Deputy William West said Winchester had $669 in his pockets and Papascodino had $1,730 stuffed inside his shirt. The black suitcase into which the robbers had stuffed their loot was also found in the field, but $1,241 remained missing.

Police Issue Warrant In Murder Of Woman

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Police issued a warrant Wednesday night for the arrest of a 37-year-old man described as the boyfriend of a Columbus woman killed by a shotgun blast earlier in the day. The woman, Oscarline Barefield, 43, was found dead in an upstairs room she rented. Coroner Robert A. Evans said the gun apparently was held "almost in her mouth" when it was fired.

Other residents of the house told police the suspect had come to the house during the morning and that the two were heard arguing in the woman's room.

East Palestine Paper Publishes In New Quarters

EAST PALESTINE — The Daily Leader printed Wednesday's edition on a new eight-page press at 78 N. Market St., marking the official moving of the daily newspaper from 93 N. Market St.

The new quarters of the paper, owned by Paul Merwin, are in a building purchased several months ago from Miss Winifred Calcott of East Liverpool. Offices were moved last night.

The new press replaces a 62-year-old press used by the paper which was founded in 1915 by Charles Merwin, father of the present publisher. Prior to that, a weekly, the Reville Echo, was published by the elder Merwin.

An open house will be held at the new quarters Tuesday night from 7 to 9, Merwin said.

Beaver Farmers Receive $88,426

Farmers in Beaver County thus far have received program payments totaling $88,426 for participation in the 1965 feed grain and wheat stabilization programs, Glen Campbell, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, has reported.

Included in the total were diversion payments of $66,461 and price-support payments of $4,017 under the feed grain program. Under the stabilization program were diversion payments of $9,454 and marketing certificates of $8,494.

In the signup held last spring, 199 county farms were enrolled in the 1965 feed grain program for an agreed diversion into approved conservation uses of 2,455 acres of corn, barley and grain sorghum and 174 farms were signed under the wheat program for an agreed diversion of 655 acres.

Benefits of the diversion programs, the chairman said, are not limited to the payments farmers earn, which do result in a substantial improvement in the farm income with accompanying benefits to the local economy.

"By participation in these programs, the farmers improve their own and the national income by bringing about a balance of supply and demand," he said. "This cuts down government cost in storage of excess stocks. The farmers also improve their farms and the nations natural resources through the conservative measures."

Ruling In Court Clarifies Law On Unconfined Dogs

If a dog is found in the yard at its home, the owner is not guilty of violating a city ordinance that prohibits the animal running at large, Acting Judge Robert A. Kapp ruled today in Municipal Court.

He returned a "not guilty" finding in the case of William Ketchum, 717 Sophia St., who was named in an affidavit filed by Dog Warden Harold Flowers.

The judge pointed out that Ketchum was charged under Section 202 of the City Code that makes it illegal for the owner or person in control of a dog to knowingly allow the animal to run at large on a street, sidewalks "or other public grounds."

The judge pointed out that the only testimony in the case was from the warden, who said he found Ketchum's dog sitting in the lawn at Ketchum's home. Flowers said two neighbors had complained that the animal entered their property and committed a nuisance, but they were not present to testify.

Ketchum was one of five persons in Municipal Court this morning on the same charge—permitting a dog to run at large.

Remmie Lockhart of Grace Alley and Daisy Ln. pleaded no contest and was fined $5 and costs. Flowers told the court that Lockhart's dog bit a child and the owner then was notified to confine the animal. The warden said Lockhart later allowed the dog to run at large.

After a lengthy hearing, the court convicted Howard R. Hinton, 1021 Claiborne St., of permitting his dog to run at large last Saturday. Flowers told the court a neighbor complained that Hinton's dog killed his ducks. The court commented the ducks were not at issue in the case since they were not connected with the charge.

The judge commented that he convicted Hinton because the only testimony in the case on the dog's whereabouts was from Flowers, who said he saw the animal on Claiborne St. Hinton denied his dog killed the ducks. He said it appears to be "a case of mistaken identity" in naming his dog.

Nancy Hanlon, 715 E. 4th St., pleaded guilty to the charge of allowing a dog to run at large and was fined $5 and costs. Mrs. Betty Allison, 325 Grant St., who pleaded not guilty, was fined $5 and costs after she was convicted by the court.

Before hearing the dog cases, the judge explained the City Code section. He warned a fine of $50 may be imposed for each violation "even if the dog is picked up four times in one day."

Man Fined $300 In Youngstown On Drug Charge

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — David W. Gulliford, 30, of Scottsdale, Ariz., has been fined $300 for possession of LSD, a hallucination-producing drug used in research and in treating the mentally ill.

Youngstown authorities said they think he is the first person arrested on such a charge.

Gulliford, fined Wednesday in municipal court, changed his plea from innocent to guilty and received the maximum penalty for possessing a dangerous drug for sale.

A 20-year-old Youngstown University student arrested with Gulliford was released without charge. Police said the student was the contact for Gulliford.

When arrested, police said, Gulliford had in his possession 123 capsules, which retail for $10 each, and $473 in cash.

A Showdown On Federalism

If a legislative drive to take civil rights criminal cases out of state courts materializes in Congress next year, as proposed by a conference of civil rights leaders, this country will face one of its grimmest moments of truth.

There will be a showdown not only with irreconcilable Southern states' rightists but with defenders of states' rights from all other sections of the Republic.

The rancor that grew out of the legislative apportionment issue will be multiplied by what states' rightists will call another invasion by federalism.

Bitterness will be deepened by the realization that it would be an invasion even more penetrating than apportionment of state legislatures or assumption of federal jurisdiction over election procedures.

But it must be kept in mind if the showdown happens that federal invasions of states' rights were more than whims of a power-mad federal government. There has been provocation.

This would be the culmination of an issue opened in the Constitutional Convention and never closed.

It will be another passage in the struggle between federalism and nationalism in the evolution of government in the United States.

The hard fact is that the rights guaranteed to all citizens by the Constitution of the United States have not been honored under the procedures of many states.

Citizens have not had equal protection of the laws. Local administrative officials and state courts have obeyed their prejudices and passions in flagrant violation of constitutional protection.

In the most recent affront to the guarantees of the Constitution, a defendant in an Alabama court was acquitted of manslaughter in connection with the slaying of an out-of-state civil rights worker. There was no question about what the defendant did. But before a local jury in a trial presided over by a local judge, there was no question about the outcome of his trial. He was to be acquitted one way or another, as defendants in criminal cases of this kind are accustomed to expect in states like Alabama.

This is the problem—whether states' rightists who mock the guarantees of the U.S. Constitution have used up the patience of Americans who believe no more leeway should be allowed.

States' rights have been abused.

It was not the intent of federalism to let localities, regions, even whole states ignore the guarantees on which American freedom depends.

For the present, it is deeply reassuring that Vice President Humphrey, like Mr. Johnson when he was vice president and like Mr. Nixon during the Eisenhower administration, is completely knowledgeable.

This is a sharp departure from the prevailing notion about vice presidents as recently as Harry Truman's time, when he admittedly had been kept at arm's length by Franklin D. Roosevelt.

There were reports that President Kennedy did not always take Mr. Johnson into his confidence, but when the time came for a transition of power Mr. Johnson was able to preside in the White House with no interruption of control.

No one expects that Hubert Humphrey will be put to a critical test. President Johnson's operation is not comparable with the serious seizures suffered by Dwight Eisenhower.

But it is a source of solid comfort to realize that in any eventuality the United States has a backup executive who knows where the pencils are kept and the location of the pencil sharpener.

Confidence In Hubert Humphrey

A re-run of the arrangement that gave the American people an assistant chief executive when Richard M. Nixon took over from ailing President Eisenhower has been set up between President Johnson and Vice President Humphrey.

The same arrangement subsequently was made between President John F. Kennedy and Mr. Johnson when he was vice president, though it never had to be used.

If the President cannot perform his duties, he will inform Vice President Humphrey if able. If unable to do this, the vice president will take over the powers and duties of the presidency after whatever consultation seems appropriate to him.

The vice president then will continue as chief executive until President Johnson can resume all the duties and functions of the office.

If the 38 state ratifications required for a constitutional amendment are obtained, a proposed amendment covering the same eventuality will be in effect later in this decade.

Go Look Them Over!

The "Triple Show" which the East Liverpool Twin Marching Bands and the Newton Falls High School band will put on Friday night at Patterson Field offers a fascinating twist in halftime entertainment.

The band directors and the administrations of the two schools are to be commended for originating and following through on the idea.

As has been pointed out by those responsible, this is more than merely a musical program. It is a novel way in which to cement student relations and community relations through a combined effort in an important phase of a high school football program.

It will be a pleasure to have the Newton Falls musicians with us, including their overnight stay tonight as guests in homes here. We hope they find us hospitable—and we're sure they will.

Both the football game and the musical extravaganza should prove one of the spectacles of this season's football program.

Why not get down to Patterson Field Friday and "look them over!"

There's Little Time For Fun

Former President Eisenhower's convocation advice to Ohio University students to have some fun as they go along in their studies will not be given wide circulation in academic circles. It's a sour note.

Contrary to an impression that higher education is all riots, going without socks and running loose, the dominant atmosphere of higher education is the other way around.

Most college students are deadly earnest about education. They have to be to survive. Competition for places in first-rate schools is fierce—as many as three applicants for every chance to enroll.

Competition for preference in graduate schools is even tougher. And competition for the desirable places after graduate school is toughest of all. Only the fit survive and only the fittest of the fit can live high on the hog.

This has brought into being a type of student formerly rare on the campuses of U.S. colleges—the all-work-and-no-play grind. These are not the proverbial "greasy grinds." They are a new breed—the competitive grinds.

Their sense of humor is squeezed out of them, along with their sense of proportion. And it is not surprising that many of them turn up in photos of riots and demonstrations. How could they be expected to know why it's incongruous for them to be doing what they're doing at an age when they should be having a little fun? They have their own ideas of what's incongruous.

They won't take former President Eisenhower's word for this, or the word of anyone else. That's part of the grimmess. No one can tell these Earnest Ernies and Nervous Nellies anything, not even to have a little fun.

Fun! With the bomb, Viet Nam, Civil Rights and the population explosion still unsettled?

Vermont, extended by a representative of the company that manufactures the little auto I drive to work. Pshaw, I don't even have a suitable cap, to say nothing of a speed-crazed chick to keep track of check points.

Anticipating cold mornings, I have added one more pair to the numerous pairs of gloves I own—most of them in stages of disrepair. The thought strikes me that gloves are better than they used to be. For 60 cents I bought a pair that meet all my specifications—loose-fitting, warm to the touch and water-resistant.

When I hear enrollment totals for the education factories called state universities, I wonder how much actual education is forthcoming in the circumstances created by so much congestion and am glad I went to a one-horse school.

Every time I pull abreast of the unfinished chores on my desk, it happens: A series of unexpected demands on my time that would necessitate either a week of 32-hour days, or going without sleep.

Caught Red-Handed!

$100 Bills Assist Reds' Projects

By Victor Riesel

Soon, action squads will be throwing themselves before onrushing trains; picketing arms cargo freighters; weaving human chains across truck turnpikes; manaculating themselves to gates of defense factories; invading military warehouse areas—all in a chanting effort to slow the transport of arms to U.S. forces in South Viet Nam.

Soon, as the Ides of October approach, thousands will march and snarl traffic in 75 cities.

Among them will be pacifists. But among them will also be the specially drilled, disciplined cadres of the Progressive Labor party (Movement), a force left of Lenin, avowedly Maoist, Castroist and direct actionist.

Theirs is no infantile leftism.

Theirs is no impoverished garret revolutionary ardor.

Theirs is a movement based, in part, on new hundred dollar bills—many of them drawn from Mexico City banks.

THIS CURRENCY, serial number by serial number, has been traced by federal investigators. It has been used for travel to Europe and Cuba. Other monies have been spent on building a small but vocal network reaching from Buffalo, N. Y., down to Kentucky and across to the West Coast.

The funds, flowing from some concealed cornucopia, finance the infiltration of strategic factories, pacifist pressure groups and Negro revolutionary literature actually charges Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. with being a front for American imperialism.

The funds, some privately donated, pay for strings of organizers now heading south; for publications on both coasts and for a venture into New York's political milieu.

There appears to be no difficulty in getting this money in chunks of thousand and ten thousand dollar lots.

From whence does it come?

SOME GOVERNMENT investigators traced $4,700 in new hundred dollar bills handed a travel agent by a Progressive Labor Movement activist named Yvonne Bond. The serial numbers on the bills started with K 3735411. The probes learned that the money legitimately started at the Central Bank of Mexico. Then to the Federal Reserve Bank in San Antonio. Later the bills were issued to the First National Bank in the same city.

Finally on April 20, 1964 the bills were included in a shipment of a million dollars made to the Banco de Mexico in Mexico City. There the money was disbursed to the public.

Later when Miss Bond and a companion arranged for passage of "students" from Chicago to Philadelphia to Paris, her companion put down $10,420, also in new one hundred dollar bills.

Miss Bond and friend, both of whom admit being Progressive Labor Movement members, refused to tell federal investigators how they got the money.

Nor do any of their colleagues have financial difficulties. There is the whirlwindish revolutionist William Epton. He has been indicted on charges of criminal anarchy in relation to the 1964 Harlem riots. Today he is out on $10,000 bail. No professional bondsman was needed. A sympathizer put up the money.

RECENTLY the Progressive Labor party named Epton as its candidate for the New York State Senate in the current election. Thousands of signatures were needed on nominating petitions.

As any precinct captain knows, gathering signatures is an expensive operation in money and manpower. Epton had no difficulty. The party came in with 8,000 names—an estimable roster for any candidate—let alone a professed revolutionist.

Where does all this money come from—the blocs of hundred dollar bills, the hundred-thousand-dollar-a-year operating budget, the payments for printing press work?

It's reasonable to ask if it flows from Castro's cornucopia or Mao's millions. Certainly the party's deficit spending would leave it in the red financially as well as politically if it had to raise the budget intramural.

'Market Mammies'

Ghana's "market mammies" are as shrewd as old-fashioned horse traders, as plucky as Horatio Alger heroes and as strong-willed as Amazons.

These hard-bargaining women vigorously run two-thirds of the market stalls and shops in Ghana. Swathed in gaudy cotton wraps, wearing huge cartwheel straw hats and often carrying bright-eyed babies slung on their backs, they work from dawn to dark.

The market mammies set up shop at teeming city markets or cross-roads trading centers, the National Geographic Society says. Some display their wares on counters under thatched shelters; others spread their stock in the open on raffia or banana leaves. The women create a tremendous din as they tinkle bells and loudly proclaim the merits of their merchandise.

Market mammies work on the principle of small profits and quick turnover. They sell everything: bolts of eye-catching cloth, lions' teeth, used fedoras, new shirts wrapped in cellophane, porcelain pots, hand-woven baskets, cigarettes, matches, razor blades, soft drinks, fish, chickens, and all kinds of fruits and vegetables.

The market women, with their many contacts, are an important political influence in Ghana. Office-seekers have learned to fear rattling of tins in the market—the mammies' sign of disapproval.

Reds Hold Fate Of Peace Appeal

The mission of Pope Paul VI to the United Nations was a plea not just to the free peoples of the world to establish peace, but was directed as well to those Communist regimes which have threatened the peace of mankind and continue to threaten it.

Whether the plea will be persuasive depends on the peoples of the Soviet Union and Red China, as well as on many of the smaller nations which have aligned themselves with Communist imperialism. The Pope did not ask only the United States and its allies to throw their arms away, but also asked the Communist nations to do the same thing, lest the latter perpetuate the need for armament by other countries as an instrument of defense.

In passages of transcendent significance, the Pope drew a distinction between offensive and defensive armament, as he said:

"If you wish to be brothers, let the arms fall from your hands. One cannot love while holding offensive arms. Those armaments—especially those terrible arms which modern science has given you—long before they produce victims and ruins, nourish bad feelings, create nightmares, distrust and sombre resolutions; they demand enormous expenditures; they obstruct projects of union and useful collaboration; they falsify the psychology of peoples. As long as man remains that weak, changeable and even wicked being that he often shows himself to be, defensive arms will, unfortunately, be necessary."

THE POPE has recognized what the peace-loving peoples of the West have known for years—that disarmament cannot be unilateral and that, as long as the Communist regimes insist on their own way in the world, refusing to honor agreements and rejecting all proposals for mutual inspection of military facilities, there will always be armament for defense.

The Pope gave a hint of a possible way of bringing a change in the world. He spoke of "the brotherly collaboration of peoples," and this, of course, means a more powerful force than governments themselves. The Pope also called for "personal transformation" and "interior renewal," and added:

"Today, as never before, in our era so marked by human progress, there is need for an appeal to the moral conscience of man. For the danger comes, not from progress, nor from science—indeed, if properly utilized, these could rather resolve many of the grave problems that assail mankind. No, the real danger comes from man himself, wielding ever more powerful arms, which can be employed equally well for destruction or for the loftiest conquests."

"In a word, then, the edifice of modern civilization must be built upon spiritual principles."

THE POPE'S VISIT to America long will be remembered. He is one of the great popes in history. But it must be recalled that what Pope Paul VI has just said over television and to the press parallels the appeal that Pope Pius XII made in vain in April 1959—just four months before World War II broke out. The statement of Pope Pius XII was in part as follows:

"How may peace be had, if, unfortunately, even among nations there frequently is lacking the mutual understanding that alone may encourage and impel peoples along luminous ways of civil progress; while pacis solemnly sanctioned and the plight of the world have lost that security and value which are the indispensable bases of reciprocal confidence and without which ardently desired disarmament, both material and moral, becomes with each passing day less possible of realization?"

YET WARS COME, and short intervals of peace are enjoyed only to be marred by threats of more wars, primarily because communication and collaboration between peoples have not been effective in preventing the rise of bellicose regimes which seek world conquest.

The visit of Pope Paul VI dramatized the issue of peace at an opportune moment in world history. But the big question is whether it will be possible to convince the peoples of Red China and the Soviet Union that they must have governments whose pledges and agreements can be trusted by the rest of the world.

THIRTY YEARS AGO—Columbiana County called a new contingent of 30 to join 400 youths already enrolled in the Civilian Conservation Corps.

The Salineville school district certified a proposed $68,000 bond issue for a $145,000 PWA high school for a Nov. 5 ballot place.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—The camp and hospital council of the local Red Cross chapter prepared to forward to Pittsburgh for shipment 500 books for overseas hospitals and Red Cross clubs.

Shirts and pajamas will continue to be scarce until the middle of next year. That was the warning from New York City by the National Association of Shirt and Pajama Manufacturers.

Sixty farmers toured 11 farms in the Lisbon-Salem-Damascus area as part of the Columbiana County Soil Conservation Week program.

Synod Of Bishops Called Move In Right Direction

(This is another in a series of articles by Bishop John King Mussio of the Diocese of Steubenville who is attending the Vatican Council in Rome.)

By BISHOP MUSSIO

The Synod of bishops announced by Pope Paul, made up of bishops from all over the world, will give the Pope information and advise. Here we have the beginning of the revitalization of the working center of the church so highly desired by the consiliar fathers.

Because the problems confronting the church today are worldwide in significance and influence, the Pope needs information as to what and where these problems are and advice as to how best to solve these problems.

Those who live with the problems and who will be involved in their solution will provide the information and advice. The synod of bishops is a step in the right direction. It satisfies the bishops' concern that the world be heard from before decisions are made.

The synod does not take over the direction of the church, rather it is an aid to the Pope, ready to serve when he wants and needs help.

Some say that in time this synod will degenerate into an ineffective Roman office, a name found on books but not active. If the spirit of this Council dies out, this could be. But I, for one, am certain this cannot happen, because I believe the spirit of this Council cannot die out without the very life of the church being threatened.

The spirit of this Council must be the spirit of Christ, going out to the people, showing them His love by service among them. The spirit of this Council is to go out to the world and bring to men an understanding of how the Gospel fits into the pattern of their lives.

I would compare the synod of bishops to the tall fire towers standing above the great forests of our country. Wherever the smoke of trouble rises, there the attention of the church must be given and immediate remedies applied. As long as we in America want to preserve our forests, so long will these watch towers be manned vigilantly.

BISHOP CORSON, Methodist leader of his flock in Philadelphia, and I met recently beneath the dome of St. Peter's.

We discussed what can be done for the best interests of men everywhere. We spoke with frankness and confidence as true blood brothers of Christ. We learned that both of us, prior to our departure for Rome, had made almost identical observations to our people regarding the aims and achievements to be expected from this Council. The success of the Council depends on the quality of Christ-ness in people. If people are not interested in Christian values and their application to daily life, then the hopes of the Council will die aborning.

The future of the Council in its work of Christian reanimation is bright only if Christ's spirit will be seen in man's spirit, in man's drive to be more than the contents of a test tube. So we spoke, Bishop Corson and I, and knew that we were both better priests of God because we faced each other with trust, understanding and the respect one man of God owes to another.

Some day, I hope the leaders of the other Christian churches will be invited to give the synod their observations, advice and information.

When we are all alerted to the dangers to our Christian life, when we are all ready to devise ways to counteract what is dangerous to our Christian way of life, then we can hope to stem the tide which, at times, all but smothers us. The troubles of the world are ours, the responsibility for the cure is ours.

Air Force Plans To Shift Pilots To Other Posts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force will shift almost 1,250 bomber pilots and navigators to new jobs flying transports, fighter planes and reconnaissance jets, it was disclosed today.

The pilots and navigators have been operating B47 jet bombers which will disappear from the U.S. air fleet by next June.

The action reflects increasing emphasis on airlift and tactical air support and the decreasing importance of the nuclear bomber in U.S. war plans.

The Air Force said that over the next eight months 952 pilots and 291 navigators will be transferred from the Strategic Air Command to the Military Air Transport Service, the Tactical Air Command and the Air Training Command.

When the B47s are all retired, the United States still will have about 630 eight-jet B52 heavy bombers and 80 supersonic B58 bombers into the 1970s.

In recent years, the government has put on a drive to increase sharply the ability to airlift troops and equipment overseas.

The fleet of transport planes has roughly doubled since 1961.

WETTINGEN, Switzerland (AP) — Martin Schaffner, 39, who made millions of dollars recovering crashed warplanes and unexploded bombs from Swiss lakes, died Tuesday. Schaffner started his salvage business in the closing day of World War II when a number of Nazi planes tried emergency landings in Switzerland.

Newsman's Tax Suit Due Hearing Monday

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—A newspaperman's suit seeking to stop collection of a proposed 0.3 mill levy by the Little Miami River Conservancy District will be heard Monday in Clinton County Common Pleas Court.

The conservancy district adopted a resolution in August calling for collection of the tax from property owners in Clinton County and four neighboring counties.

Myers contended the levy is illegal and asked for a temporary injunction to keep county officials from collecting the money. He said the levy should have been submitted for approval to the voters or to the Clinton County Budget Commission.

Water Needs In Hookstown Area Studied

Full development of water resources in the Hookstown area were among the objectives discussed this week during a meeting of the Beaver County Soil and Water Conservation district directors.

An adequate water supply was termed a vital need to assure future development.

Selection of an outstanding farm conservationist for participation in the "Goodyear Contest" also was discussed. Final action on the matter and a report on the 4-H awards program will be on the agenda for the next meeting.

James S. Johnson, Soil Conservation Service representative for Beaver County, reported on activities of his office. He said a soil scientist has reported for duty and will handle the SCS responsibilities for soil surveys in the county.

Johnson also announced that seven basic soil and water conservation plans have been prepared for landowners in the county since July 1.

Ponds recently have been completed on the farms of Samuel McRoberts in Enon Valley and Wayne Cooper of Fombell R.D. 1, it was disclosed.

Directors in attendance were Ralph W. Hartenbach, Robert H. Bernhardt, Arthur W. Pettibon, T. C. Glenn and Glenn C. Dodds, secretary - treasurer.

Plans Are Set For Pow Pow

Plans have been completed for the bi-annual Cubbers Pow Pow to be sponsored Sunday by the Columbiana Council of the Boy Scouts of America at St. Aloysius School here.

Don Theiss, Cherokee District training chairman, pointed out that Cub leaders will receive training in four program areas — pack administration, kits, puppets and ceremonies, games and crafts.

All registered Cubbers, parents, Cubmasters and assistants, den mothers and assistants and institutional representatives and pack committeemen are eligible to attend.

Registration will be held from 1:30 to 2 p. m., with sessions beginning promptly at 2 and adjourning at 6.

Theiss said the school will be open from noon until 2 p. m. Saturday to permit packs to set up table displays prior to Sunday's event.

Rain Hampers Work On Blacktop Project

Blacktop resurfacing of East End's main thoroughfare was on an "on again, off again" status today because of intermittent showers.

The Tri-State Asphalt Corp. of East Liverpool and Martins Ferry said its crews resumed work on the Harvey Ave. phase of the project this morning, but the job was interrupted shortly afterward by showers. But the work will continue later in the day unless the rain becomes heavy or prolonged, the company said.

Tri-State holds a State Highway Department contract of about $50,000 for resurfacing of Harvey Ave., Elizabeth St. and Pennsylvania Ave. from the state line to State St. Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said a parking ban still applies today on the stretch west to Oakland Ave. Two lanes of Harvey Ave. were completed Wednesday, except for a thin final course, and a section of the third lane was completed west from the state line a few hundred yards.

To make celery curl, cut the stalks into three or four-inch pieces. Split each piece into thin strips about an inch from the end. Allow the stalks to stand in icy water until the fine strips curl.

East End Man Hurt In Crash

A 45-year-old East End man escaped with comparatively minor injuries Wednesday afternoon when his auto hit guard rails along the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." rebounded into a car and then struck a utility pole, police reported.

Henry Ward of 537 Virginia Ave. was released after treatment at City Hospital for bruises of the right knee and the right side of the head.

Officers said his 1955 model two-door sedan was involved in a collision at 2:28 p. m. with a 1956 model car operated by Clement B. Keyser, 21, of Hamlin, W. Va. Both were westbound at approximately 40 miles an hour.

Ward said he pulled out to pass Keyser and a bus, but Keyser also began to pass the bus. Ward said he pulled to the left to avoid a collision, causing his car to hit the guard rail, rebound into Keyser's auto and then strike the pole. The pole carried Ohio Power Co. lines, but the company said there was no interruption of service.

The bus was not involved directly in the mishap and it was not damaged, police said. The collision demolished the front of Ward's car and damaged the left side of Keyser's car, officers said.

The site of the crash was about 1,500 feet east of Ravine St. Patrolman Paul A. Burson Jr. investigated.

residents, unauthorized privileges given some employees and misuse of home property.

Phillis, who has retained two East Palestine attorneys, has declared he will fight the discharge through the Civil Service Commission.

Phillis, who has served at the home for seven years, arranged a meeting between newsmen and some employees and residents of the home yesterday afternoon.

Most of those present told the newsmen the superintendent was not involved in such practices as claimed by the commissioners so far as they knew. Phillis was not present when they spoke.

Several of the employees were among those hired by Phillis recently who have not received their pay because the commissioners have withheld salaries, claiming the pay scales were not set by the commissioners as required by law.

A ruling has been requested from the Ohio attorney general's office concerning the pay status.

Leading today's demonstration was Frank Murray of Lisbon, who said nearly 500 were expected to turn out.

Who are the demonstrators? Murray described them as "tax-payers" who feel the dismissal of Phillis and the withheld paychecks of the employees is "unfair."

Communists Stir Dispute In Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno and the leaders of Indonesia's army appeared today to be locked in dispute over the future of Indonesia's big Communist party.

Sukarno told his Cabinet Wednesday he disapproves of the army's campaign against the Communist party — PKI — for its alleged involvement in the abortive coup last Thursday which resulted in the slaying of six army generals.

Sukarno's position was reported by First Deputy Premier Subandrio after the 3½-hour Cabinet meeting at the president's summer palace in Bogor, 40 miles south of Jakarta.

Subandrio, who is also foreign minister, said he himself believed a PKI statement Wednesday that it was not involved in the rebel movement. Leaders of the PKI appeared in public for the first time since last weekend and claimed that the party had nothing to do with the attempted coup, which it called "an internal affair of the army."

Two Communist Cabinet members attended the Bogor meeting, but D. N. Aidit, leader of Indonesia's 3 million Communists and a Cabinet minister without portfolio, was noticeably absent.

The army command began cracking down on the Communists after it crushed the Jakarta coup attempt and issued a state-of-war proclamation last Saturday.

The army charged that Communist youths, disguised in uniforms, tortured and then killed the six generals, including army Chief of Staff Achmad Yani. Their mutilated bodies were found in a common grave near the Halim air base outside Jakarta.

The army has reported arresting some 200 Communists and seizing a large number of weapons.

(In Kuala Lumpur, Radio Malaysia reported that the army-controlled Jakarta radio was keeping up a steady fire of anti-Communist broadcasts, including a report that six big Moslem organizations had demanded the arrest and execution of Communist rebels and the banning of the PKI and its affiliates, including the big Sobsi trade union.)

Diplomatic observers in Jakarta concluded that Sukarno apparently is determined to maintain the PKI in the face of the army's anti-Communist campaign.

Sukarno allowed the PKI to gain strength until it became the best organized political party in the country. He considered the Communists a good counter-balance to the army's power.

Sukarno criticized "the appeal for vengeance of one group against the other," Subandrio reported, but he said the president also does not condone the murder of the generals.

Jakarta was quiet this morning as the army remained in full control. A dawn-to-dawn curfew, imposed last Saturday, was still in force.

Tanks, armored cars and troops held positions at major intersections and key installations.

Board Clears 11 For Exam

The Civil Service Commission, meeting this morning at City Hall, cleared 11 of 13 applicants to compete in an examination Monday night in which an eligibility list will be drawn up for appointment of a sanitary inspector in the Health Department.

The deadline for filing was Tuesday. The board then convened to approve the applications which met all legal requirements. The post pays $410 monthly, plus $75 for car expense. The vacancy resulted from the death of Gene Smith in August. The appointment will be made by the Health Board.

Meanwhile, the commission said it has not received any applications for a test for city truck drivers' jobs which it will conduct Oct. 18. The deadline for applications is Saturday noon. The posts pay $2.14 hourly.

Applications may be obtained at the office of Mayor George Willshaw or from any member of the commission, comprised of Donald I. Burcham, A. A. Fiorello and H. A. Tullis.

In connection with an exam for "Meter Maid" vacancies on Oct. 21, the commission said only one regular appointee's position is open at present. Two substitutes also are needed to work part - time during vacations and other absences of the regulars. The jobs pay $1.72 hourly.

The deadline for applications is noon Oct. 16.

Standard Oil Co. Sets Up Plan In Event Of Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Super-

visory personnel of four Ohio refineries of Standard Oil Co. are to take over operations in the event a strike is called at midnight tonight by the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union.

Preparations were made by the two refineries in Cleveland and refineries in Toledo and Lima. The refineries are to be maintained "to near capacity" by supervisory employees. The preparations were made after a nationwide strike was threatened.

A company spokesman said a strike could idle some 1,000 workers—450 of them in Cleveland. Representatives of the company and union were to meet today with Ken Moffett, a federal mediator. Robert P. Buchanan, the union's Cleveland representative, said the meeting would determine if a strike would take place.

The company has offered a four per cent increase in wages but the union is demanding a five per cent hike in bargaining on a wage reopener clause in its contract.

2 Men, Woman Hunted In Ohio Jewel Robbery

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police are looking for two men and a woman in connection with a robbery in a tan car during $120,000 jewel robbery out "564" Wednesday from a one-man shop. A single gunman entered the at the Provident Bank Building, sixth-floor shop of Melvin Cook. Officers said the trio left a 49, and escaped with jewelry lot shortly valued at $60,000 wholesale and $120,000 retail. This consisted of $50,000 in uncut diamonds plus $400 cash.

Cook described the robber as "meticulous, calm and cool." He said he was working on a watch when the man came in with a semi-transparent mask over the lower part of his face. "This is a stickup," he quoted the robber as saying. "Get the hell out of here," he replied Cook, thinking it was a customer pulling a joke. The robber pointed to a .38 caliber revolver in his right hand. "You think I'm kidding?" Cook quoted him as saying. The robber used adhesive tape to tie up Cook and placed a towel over his head.

Cook said the man took only the best stones.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mary A. Bowers of 1818 Michigan Ave. and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Maloni of Garrett Park, Md.

GIVEN IN marriage by her brother, John M. Bowers, the bride wore a full-length gown of cameo peau de soie and re-embroidered Alencon lace. The Empire-style bodice was fashioned with long, pointed sleeves and the neckline accented with lace appliques adorned with pearls. Pentagon Says Plane Missing In North Viet WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon says an Air Force F105 attack plane is missing with a bombing mission in North Viet Nam, but "available information" does not substantiate a Peking claim an American plane flew over China and was shot down.

An investigation is continuing, the Pentagon said Wednesday in response to questions about the Red Chinese claim.

Pilots who were on the bombing mission Tuesday were quoted in the Pentagon statement as saying that when last seen the pilot of the missing plane had completed a bomb run and was turning toward his base.

The target area mentioned by the Pentagon — 30 miles northeast of Hanoi, the capital of North Viet Nam—is up to 100 miles from the Chinese border.

Tearful Father Relates Tragic Death Of 2 Sons

OGDEN, Utah, (AP) — Farrell Maw fought back tears as he told how his two young sons died trying to save their sister and baby brother from an exploding fire that roared through their home.

Maw said his sons Kevin, 10, and Gregory, 7, bolted back into the burning house after he rescued them from their basement bedroom.

He said the boys had been told to check the baby's crib and their sister's room if the house ever caught fire.

Kevin died next to the baby's crib. Gregory's body was found face down on his sister's bed with the covers pulled over his head.

The boys' sister, Debbie, 11, had led the baby, Bryce, 3, and two other brothers, Jeffrey, 6, and Phillip 4, out of the burning building moments earlier.

The fire left only parts of walls and the roof of the Maw home Wednesday. Fire Chief Clyde L. Peterson estimated damage at several thousand dollars.

Maw said the fire started in a sleeping bag on a basement couch. Fire Marshal Robert G. Penton said it might have been ignited by a hot lightbulb nearby.

Debbie said she was awakened by a temperature-controlled fire alarm in the Maws' home.

"I did just what they (her parents) told me to do in case of a fire," she said. "First I telephoned grandpa. Then I got Bryce, Phillip and Jeff and led them out of the house."

Their grandfather, Ted Tyree, met the children at the door. Their father and mother arrived seconds later from a 30-mile trip to Salt Lake City with friends.

Debbie tried to lead her grandfather back into the house for Kevin and Gregory. He pushed her back out.

Her father crawled down basement stairs to the boys' bedroom.

"They were in bed," he said. "I grabbed them both and went right through the basement's outside door with one of the kids in each arm. I guess I kicked it off its hinges."

"We thought the baby was still in there. But then we saw his was safe in his mother's arms."

"They were told to get the baby out of bed and see about their sister if there ever was a fire."

"They bolted back into the house. The fire exploded about the time the two little fellows reached the upstairs bedroom."

New Parsonage Obtained By Nazarene Church Here

The purchase of a new parsonage and plans for an educational unit and a new parking lot have been announced by the First Church of the Nazarene. The church has purchased the former Walter Bulger home on Maine Blvd. and will take possession as soon as the transaction is completed.

The Rev. and Mrs. C. G. Schlosser expect to be moved into the new parsonage by Thanksgiving.

The present parsonage on Jennings Ave., acquired in 1942, is being sold.

Rev. and Mrs. Schlosser came to East Liverpool in August 1963, with their daughter, Esther, now a sophomore at Eastern Nazarene College. They also have married daughters residing in California and Indiana.

As a long-range plan for the church, an annex, which will be used as an educational unit and will include a small chapel, will be constructed on the north side of the church along St. Clair Ave.

No time has been set for the start of the addition nor has a budget been adopted. Future construction plans will be considered during the winter.

Preliminary plans were drawn by Noverre Mission of the architectural firm of Tibbals, Crumley and Musson of Columbus.

Three dwellings east of the church on Minerva St. between Daisy Ln. and Sophia St. will be demolished next week to clear the site for use as a parking lot for worshippers. The new lot should be ready for use by the holidays.

Johnson Salute To Congress Turns Into Hospital Sendoff

WASHINGTON (AP) — The extravagant salute to Congress which President Johnson planned for tonight has turned dramatically into a hospital sendoff, instead.

After a gala evening of poetry, song and music, the President will head for Bethesda Naval Hospital to prepare for a Friday morning gall bladder operation.

All the members of Congress — House and Senate — had been invited to be entertained and praised for their accomplishments in this busy session. Wives also were invited. Now they'll have a chance to wish the President well.

Johnson will deliver a speech from the stage of the State Department auditorium to launch the star-studded program.

The festive occasion was planned long before Johnson's illness and the President ordered it to proceed as scheduled.

The evening's activities involve some complicated logistics to provide entertainment and dinner for a guest list that numbers more than a thousand.

Guests were invited to the White House, from which 20 military buses will transport them to the State Department for an hour-long show featuring stars of stage, screen, opera and the folk song circuit.

After the hour-long affair at the State Department, the whole audience will be transported back to the White House again by buses for a lavish buffet dinner served in the state dining room and the East Ballroom.

Guild Rejects Settlement Plan In News Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiators for the 2,200 members of the AFL-CIO New York Newspaper Guild on strike against the New York Times rejected today a settlement formula proposed by Theodore W. Kheel, Mayor Robert F. Wagner's special mediator.

The 25-member negotiating committee of the Times unit of the New York Guild said Kheel's recommendations for settling the 22-day-old strike were unacceptable.

The rejection was announced several hours after Kheel presented 30 pages of recommendations to management and union negotiators Wednesday night.

A spokesman said there are items in the recommendations that are acceptable, but as a formula "we don't like it."

There was no immediate comment by the Times.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Rock 'n Roll

Dear Ann: You let every parent in America down when you said you liked rock 'n' roll. It's plan to see from your pictures that you are wearing a cheap wig and false teeth but I didn't realize you were deaf, too.

Our two teen-age daughters have lost their minds over rock 'n' roll noise. (I refuse to call it music), and we already have been asked to move out of this apartment because of it. They spend every cent of their allowances, plus whatever they can earn, on trashy records.

When the Dave Clark Five came to town they waited at the airport for hours like morons. When they got home the 15-year-old said, "I touched him! Dave Clark himself! I'm not going to wash my hand for a week."

The last straw was when you said the music of the early '40s had the same beat. If you will tell me how you can get a Glenn Miller record to sound like rock 'n' roll, I'll eat this newspaper. —MAD.

Dear Mad: Start nibbling. Another reader who is on your side came up with the answer to your question.

He said, "If you boil a Glenn Miller record for three hours and play it with a single nail it will sound like rock 'n' roll."

The Word Is 'Nix'

Dear Ann: I am a bachelor (age 31) and I always swore I would never get married. People use to kid me but my stock answer was, "Why buy a cow when milk is so cheap?"

Well, Ann, about six months ago I began to take out a widow who has three children. She is a wonderful person and the only woman who ever has made me think I might be better off married than single.

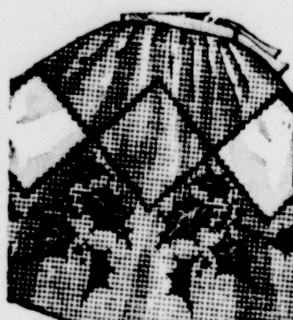

The problem is her children. They are pretty good kids, I guess, but I'm afraid they might get on my nerves after awhile. I am not used to children and I can't think of anything to say to them.

I worry, too that their mother might put the kids ahead of me after we are married. I admire her for being a devoted mother but sometimes I feel she is too warped up in her kids and it could cause trouble. Any advice? — ONE DUKE.

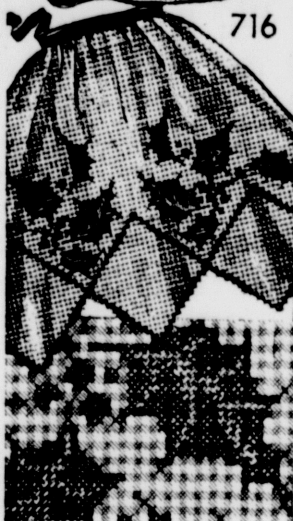

Dear Duke: Yes. Find a single girl or a childless widow. If you can't think of anything to say to those kids NOW, the things you will think of to say later would be better unsaid. It's obvious that you resent the children and are competing with them for their mother's attention. The word from here is nix.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Cuyahoga Jury Report Slated In Murder Of Boy

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cuyahoga County Grand Jury may report today on testimony heard in the first-degree murder indictment against Mrs. Mariann Colby, 40.

The Shaker Heights housewife is charged with the Aug. 24 killing of 8-year-old John Cremer Young Jr., a neighbor. She has admitted the shooting but said it was accidental.

Mrs. Colby was bound over to the grand jury Sept. 8 after pleading innocent to the charge in Shaker Heights Municipal Court and is held without bond in county jail.

The boy was shot in the Colby kitchen and his body was found 10 miles away in a wooded area of Gates Mills the same day.

Before she admitted the shooting was accidental, Mrs. Colby said in a statement to police that her 9-year-old son, accidentally shot Cremer and she took the body to the place where it was found.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Hey there, all you spaghetti eaters...

We get so many complaints from women who have spaghetti stains on white garments — dresses, shirts, etc.

Recently, I had on a good dress which was a drip-dry, and had some nylon lace on it, and I was eating spaghetti!

When the spaghetti hit my dress, I immediately picked up a piece of lemon, dampened my napkin in some water, and punched it in a piece of lemon. This allowed the lemon to absorb into the fibers of the cotton napkin. I took this lemon-dipped fabric and rubbed the spaghetti stain, and immediately it was gone!

So, I suggest that any of you who get a spaghetti stain on any white cotton or "lon" clothing, immediately find a piece of lemon (and I bet you that vinegar will do the same thing), and wipe the spot off the garment. Then rinse in clear water.

It works.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a helpful hint our neighbor passed on to us, so we are passing it on to you:

After frying hamburgers, put them on buns and place in a plastic bag (such as the ones your buns came in) close the end and let set for five minutes.

The heat will penetrate the buns, and the kids will just love them.

FATHER OF THREE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: My younger brother and I earn our allowances by performing duties around the house. One of our duties is to keep our rooms straightened. This includes dusting the furniture and cleaning the windows.

My little brother refused to wash the windows until I put the cleaning solution into one of his squirt guns. Now, he cleans the windows in record time.

He even used a water-filled gun to help Mom dampen the clothes.

BIG SISTER.

Now, that's a real cool idea. And, it also proves that those little guns are good for something besides dousing people!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When sewing dark, fall clothes, use a sliver of soap to mark darts and the hem length.

This is an easy way for a hurried mother, and the soap washes or cleans right out.

RACHEL FLORENCE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a good way to prepare a little one for his first haircut:

While you are using your electric razor, let the side of it slide on his neck.

He will get used to the sound of it after a few times, and won't be frightened when it comes time for the haircut. I did this, and it worked fine.

R. G. CONRAD.

DEAR HELOISE: If you have a vanity without drawers and don't want to clutter the top with make-up utensils, try using a beautiful, old jewelry box for these.

It's not too conspicuous, and is large enough for these necessities that you want on hand.

LAURA.

If centipedes appear in your basement, clean out all the damp, dark corners and kill each one you find. Then spray the area with a strong solution of DDT.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS
Interest Aids In Child's Learning

A widely accepted doctrine coming down from Rousseau through Dewey and his disciples is that a child's effort at learning depends wholly on his interest. From this it has been deduced that parents and teachers should aim first to arouse interest in the child in what he is to learn and his effort will come automatically. Just common sense might easily lead us to believe that the more interested a child is in reading, for example, the more effort he will use in reading.

The more interested a child is in mathematics, the more effort he will use to master it. The more interested he is in science, the more effort he will exert at learning the skills and knowledge involved in scientific subjects, and so on.

MY READERS know that some children are so interested in reading that they want to read constantly. Some are so interested in one or several aspects of mathematics that they use amazing effort to master even what most other children consider painful drudgery. Some children are so interested in the skills and methods and knowledge of one or several aspects of science that their efforts in these directions amaze us.

Who could have kept Benjamin Franklin while a boy from reading; Steinmetz or Einstein from hours and hours of self-directed effort in scientific pursuits; or Wolfgang Mozart at three years of age from the piano, and from creating music in his very early years?

Moreover, there is ample evidence that some men and women who have achieved in intellectual directions had their interest aroused and stimulated by one or more skillful persons. Some of my readers have themselves found ways to stimulate children with so much interest as to cause them to exert the kind of effort which resulted in phenomenal achievement.

BUT WHAT proportion of all children who have not put forth much effort at learning to read, spell, do mathematics, play a musical instrument, or to master the various subjects in science or the social sciences, have acquired sufficient interest in any of these directions to cause them to strive hard?

Suppose you have good reason to believe your child who is a poor reader and has average or superior native ability to become a good reader, but evinces no interest in reading and, therefore, no effort in this direction.

Suppose you are sure your child, 10, has considerable musical ability, but indicates aversion to practice at music lessons. Are you going to trust solely to the possibility of finding ways to interest him enough to cause him to strive in these directions?

As a corollary to the doctrine of interest is the theory that what a child is required to do against his will he is sure to hate and to avoid doing it thereafter, if he is able to escape it.

IT IS wonderful if you can find ways of arousing interest and consequent effort in your child in any matter of learning. But suppose you fail to find these ways. Are you going to give up? More on this later.

My bulletins, "Celebrate Your Child's Successes" and "Letting Baby and Tot Learn," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

8 Major Ohio Cities Held Responsible For Highways

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's eight major cities are responsible for maintaining existing interstate highways within their city limits, Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe has ruled.

Saxbe's opinion rules out state expenditure of millions of dollars outlined in the highway appropriation bill passed by the recently adjourned Ohio General Assembly.

Involved are cities with more than 100,000 population—Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati, Toledo, Dayton, Akron, Youngstown and Canton.

Highway Director P. E. Masheter already has agreed to finance maintenance of interstate highways in cities of less than 100,000 population.

When interstate highways are built, big cities agree to provide maintenance and lighting under contract with the state.

Saxbe said the state constitution and court rulings have held that maintenance is solely the duty of municipalities. He said the constitution prohibits "retroactive laws or laws impairing the obligation of contracts."

The Highway Department has said it would cost the state an additional $10 million a year to maintain interstate highways in major cities, and the extra accounts would have crippled the department's existing programs.

The department is preparing a letter to the cities involved outlining its position based on the ruling.

Saxbe's opinion applies only to completed projects. C. H. Makeever, chief highway engineer, said that although many miles of existing interstate highways are the responsibility of various cities, "future projects are entirely another matter."

As future contracts are signed, cities apparently will be able to rely upon the state law to get maintenance and lighting provided by the state.

Ex-Ike Aide In Peyton Place

If former President Eisenhower, whiling away an evening at the farm in Gettysburg, happens to look in on TV's "Peyton Place," he can be forgiven a double-take.

Rev. Jerry Bedford, the minister in the ABC serial drama, is, sure enough, being portrayed by Ted Hartley, who was a White House Naval aide during the Eisenhower administration.

Cmdr. Hartley, a Navy jet test pilot, subsequently suffered a broken back in a carrier landing crash and was retired from the service on a pension.

WHEN HE RECOVERED, he first intended to enter investment banking in New York, but an opportunity to become an actor beckoned and he took it. He is not sorry, he said in New York as he paused here en route to Europe to pick up a new German car.

He is on a leave from his "Peyton Place" role to go to Tokyo and play a featured part in Cary Grant's next movie, "Walk, Don't Run." He'll be away from the TV series 11 weeks.

"It's great!" he said of the acting life, which he never had tried before. "Among other things, I feel I have such an advantage over the average actor because I can bring so many experiences outside acting to my roles."

SHIRLEY BOOTH, stopping over in New York — "for interviews," she explained candidly — en route from Cape Cod back to Hollywood and "Hazel," insisted she didn't pay much attention to TV's ratings, despite all the talk about them around the studio sets.

"I just learn my lines," she claimed. "Any time you start counting the house, you lose some of your spontaneity, I think."

She reported she already had filmed 13 episodes of her domestic comedy series, which switched from NBC to CBS this fall, "and I'm on my way back to do 13 more."

"I've never played a role so long before," she noted, pointing out that she now has been "Hazel" four years. She goes home to her house at Chatham, Mass., between stretches of work.

Would she want to be Hazel indefinitely? "No, I think a couple of more years is enough," she sighed.

MAUREEN O'HARA is in New York for talks with CBS-TV officials about her impending starring role in the pilot for a proposed weekly comedy series.

The film actress has appeared in guest roles on television, but has not hitherto played in a weekly show.

Production of the pilot, titled "Daphne!" is to be started Oct. 15 in Hollywood. Its story line casts Miss O'Hara in the role of an eccentric older woman who goes to live with relatives who are a conventional family.

Mort DaCosta, Broadway and movie producer-director of such hits as "Auntie Mame" and "The Music Man," will both produce and direct "Daphne!" It will be his first venture into weekly TV, too.

FORMER PRESIDENT Eisenhower, between becoming 75 on Oct. 14 and plugging the second volume of his memoirs, "Waging Peace," apparently is going to ride the radio-TV circuit in coming weeks.

He will set for an interview to be aired by ABC's "Issues and Answers" on Oct. 17. White House correspondent William H. Lawrence will go to Gettysburg to tape the conversation, in which the General, according to the network, will "assess" the Johnson administration's foreign and domestic policies.

Other radio-TV dates are in the works.

Columbus Officials Eye Legislators Tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Columbus officials will make one more attempt to collect unpaid city income taxes from state legislators before taking legal action.

City Auditor John C. Price plans to contract each lawmaker by letter to request payment of the one per cent tax. If payment is not made voluntarily, the city will have to file civil suits to collect the taxes.

The tax collection process will involve going back through general assembly records to 1960 to determine members, the number of days the sessions lasted and the number the legislator attended.

Midland Fund Campaign Gets Off To A Fast Start

The Midland Area United Fund drive is off to an encouraging start, with $29,013, or 45 per cent of the goal of $63,975, already reported.

The first of four weekly meetings was held at Midland High School.

R. C. Gilroy of Brighton Township, general campaign chairman, congratulated the committee workers on the good start, but warned that the campaign can't be considered successful until the goal is reached.

Leading the reports was the public service division headed by Charles I. Finley of Midland, with 100.4 per cent of its $175 goal.

Other divisional reports were: Fr. John Sabovik, special gifts, 26 per cent; Miss Margaret LaValle, clubs and organizations, 6 per cent; Robert Masters, attorneys and funeral homes, 18 per cent; Charles R. Schmitt, manufacturing, 50 per cent and Dr. E. H. North, medical and dental, 26 per cent.

Midland area residents were reminded that the United Fund drive is one drive instead of 43 and are urged to contribute accordingly. Pledges may be made by installments.

Jury Summoned To Get Evidence In Murder Case

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP)—Cocino County's first grand jury in 50 years was summoned in Flagstaff today to hear evidence against a young Ohio couple in the Labor Day slaying of two New Hampshire men.

Donald M. Boggs, 23, of Londonderry, Ohio, and his 16-year-old girl friend, Dixie Radcliff of Amesville, Ohio, are being held in the fatal shooting of Robert Willis, 23, and Halvor Johnson, 28, both of Newport, N.H.

Boggs waived a preliminary hearing and his attorney asked for a grand jury.

Justice of the Peace J. F. Brierley dismissed a murder charge against Miss Radcliff Wednesday, but it was merely a legal technicality.

The charge was dropped when County Atty. Jerry L. Smith declined to proceed with a preliminary hearing for the girl.

Smith said he would place his evidence against Miss Radcliff before the grand jury rather than at a preliminary hearing.

School Head Lauded For Rejecting Test

WASHINGTON COURTHOUSE, Ohio (AP)—School Supt. Marshall D. Boggs was commended because he rejected a federally sponsored test as "too snooty."

Boggs, like many other school administrators in Ohio and other states, turned down a test proposed for students in first, third, sixth, ninth and twelfth grades.

Questions, he said, dealt with such things as family income. School board members took no formal action after hearing Boggs' report Monday night, but made it clear they commended his action.

Twins Seeking 2nd Straight After Rapping Drysdale

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Nobody is talking about four straight anymore. Not even the Minnesota Twins who battered Don Drysdale and beat the once-favored Los Angeles Dodgers 8-2 to draw first World Series blood.

The Dodgers had really believed they could knock off the American League champions in four straight. Today, somewhat subdued after having their 23-game winning right-handed ace knocked out in less than three innings, the Dodgers placed all their hopes on Sandy Koufax, their left-handed star, to give them an even break in the two games here.

Sam Mele, the Twins' manager, never had any illusions about a four-game sweep. Even after having won the first one, Sam still contained his optimism.
"You always like to win the first one and get the momentum," he said. "It's like when you go into any series during the season. You want the first one very badly."
"It's the same old story. We'll go one at a time. Los Angeles is a good club. You can't relax against those guys. We'll keep their hopes on Sandy Koufax, playing the way we have all year."

LA Sends Koufax To Even Series

Mele confirmed his nomination of Jim Kaat, his 18-game winner, as the second game starter. After that it will be right-hander Camilo Pascual for the third game in Los Angeles Saturday. Friday has been set aside for travel.

In Koufax, the Twins will face the best pitcher in baseball. Sandy last worked on Saturday when he pitched the pennant clincher against Milwaukee, lifting his season's record to 26-20, earned run average, equaling Lefty Grove's record of having led his league four straight times in earned run averages. His season record included eight shutouts and a record 382 strikeouts. He also turned in a too," said Jim Grant, the Twins' ace right-hander who tamed the Dodgers on 10 hits Wednesday. "They said we couldn't beat Drysdale, but we did. We've been underrated all year. They picked us sixth and seventh but we came in first. They said we would fold in the clutch but we didn't. We're going to fool 'em again today."

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1965 PAGE 20

Shortstop Zoilo Versalles, who paced the Twins' 10-hit attack with a three-run homer and a run scoring single, was more cautious. "We just play one game and we're okay," he said. "There are seven games."

The odds-makers have changed their minds following the Twins' first game victory. They now make it an even series, after having first established the Dodgers a 7-5 favorite. The Dodgers and Koufax are 13-10 choice to win today's game.
Dodger Manager Walter Alston didn't appear too downcast over the defeat. "We got 10 hits," he reminded. "I'll always settle for 10 hits."

"They got 10 hits, too, but theirs came in a bunch and scored runs. Ours were spaced and didn't score enough runs."
The Twins' 10 hits included homers by Don Mincher as well as Versalles and doubles by Frank Quilici, Sandy Valdespino and Grant. Except for Ron Fairly's homer, all the Dodger hits were singles.
Alston readily conceded that Versalles' three-run homer off Drysdale in the third was the most damaging blow. "I thought that hit really killed us," he said. "After that Earl Battey's single into short right field with the bases loaded. That put them out of reach."

McNea Makes 4 Changes In ELHS Starting Offensive Unit

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Member Barred From Meeting ...

Dear Mr. Duffy,
I am writing this letter in regard to an incident which occurred to me Wednesday evening that is unbelievable.

I am a graduate of East Liverpool High School, participated in football and have been a loyal supporter of the East Liverpool athletic program since graduation.

I served as treasurer of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club for two years and have actively participated in fund-raising projects.

I designed and constructed the "Little Potter" which is presently used by the band and printed on articles sold by local merchants. I also constructed the school crest that is currently displayed on the stadium press box.

Wednesday at approximately 6 p. m. I received a phone call from Dick Wolfe, president of the Nonpareil Club and candidate for the East Liverpool Board of Education. He informed me that Carl Pelini, high school principal, and Bob McNea, head football coach, did not want me present at any showing of the East Liverpool - Steubenville Central football movie sponsored by the Nonpareil Club, of which I am a paid-up member.

I informed Mr. Wolfe that I would attend the movie, my intentions being to question Mr. Pelini and Mr. McNea as to why they did not want me present.

Upon entering the high school, I was immediately approached by Mr. Pelini, who informed me, "We don't want you to see the movie."

When I asked why, he could give no answer. I entered the meeting and questioned Mr. Wolfe, who gave no answer, and Mr. McNea, who completely ignored me, could give no reason for this decision.

I also put the question to two personal acquaintances on the coaching staff, Norm Six and Dick Bryan, both of whom replied that I was not wanted.

After a few moments of discussion and a threat by Mr. Pelini to have me arrested, I left peacefully.

My support is still firmly behind the team and I sincerely hope they have a winning season, but after this show of prejudice without justification, I cannot help but question the judgement of Mr. Pelini and Mr. McNea, who see fit to decide which booster members shall attend meetings and who shall be forbidden to attend.

JOE McCORMACK
Anderson Blvd.

Principal Carl Pelini, questioned this morning, accepted full responsibility for the incident and admitted he had used poor judgment.

He issued this statement: "This was poor judgment on my part and Mr. McCormack had every right to attend the meeting of the Nonpareil Club. I will accept full responsibility."

Questioned as to why Mr. McCormack was asked not to attend the meeting, Mr. Pelini replied: "I cannot answer that."

We can't help but feel that Mr. McCormack was perfectly right in terming last night's action "unbelievable."

Apparently the initial request that he not be allowed to attend was made by Coach McNea to Mr. Pelini, who in turn relayed the request to Mr. Wolfe.

The incident has a tendency to indicate that the Nonpareil Club is being directed to too great a degree by the high school principal and the football coach rather than by its officers. If such is the case, it would be regrettable.

Apparently, the reason Mr. McCormack was barred from the meeting goes back to his personal friendship with former coaches at East Liverpool who are now in similar capacities in other area schools, including Steubenville Big Red.

If this is all that is behind the action, it is petty reasoning with a capital "P", since almost the entire Steubenville Big Red coaching staff scouted the East Liverpool-Steubenville Central game.

And for the record, Mr. McCormack said he actually had not planned to attend last night's meeting until he was called by Mr. Wolfe and informed he wasn't permitted to do so.

Newton Falls' Record 3-1

The weather may not change but there has been some change in the East Liverpool Potter lineup for Friday's contest with Newton Falls at Patterson Field.

Disappointed with his team's showing in a 6-6 tie with Steubenville Central last week, Coach Bob McNea has made four changes in the starting offensive lineup while adding one new name to the defensive unit.

McNEA explained "by using some new players it will give us a chance to compare their performances. Those boys who started last week, but are not starting this week, will probably be used but we are giving some new boys a chance."

Jim Gooding, a 160-pounder, has drawn the starting fullback post in place of veteran Mike Goodballet. This is not Gooding's first starting job, he started the Beaver Local and Midland games when Goodballet had to handle the quarterback assignment.

McNea has named Greg

Pierce, 165-pound junior, to start at center in place of sophomore Ray Boyd. Ed Golden, a 155-pound junior, who was the regular defensive end, will open at left end taking over for Jerry Vaughn.

JIM JONES, 175 pound senior, has been tabbed for the right end spot where Roger Clendenning played last week. With Golden being moved to the offensive team, Denny Smith, a junior, will take over the defensive end position.

McNea isn't taking Newton Falls lightly since they won three straight before losing to a powerful Ravenna team, 30-6 last week. Ravenna has won 13 straight games over a two-year period.

COACH Andy Pike, in his sixth year as head coach at Newton Falls, named "lack of depth" as the big problem this season.

"We have to depend on about 12 boys to go both ways," Pike said. The Tigers only make one change on defense sending Mike Gundrous, a 190-pound junior, into middle guard.

The offensive team has been paced by a pair of speedy backs in John Roach, 160-pound senior and Calvin Mason, 160-pound junior.

THEY carry the brunt of the Tigers offense. "Both boys have good speed and we have been trying to break them loose for that long touchdown run," Pike said.

Newton Falls will have 10 lettermen in the lineup with five letter winners who were regulars playing both ways last season.

George Manovich will be at quarterback and Potter scouting report he likes to throw the long pass. Manovich is 165 and a senior.

PIKE was not certain if John Kezele, 175 - pound senior or Gary King, 150-pound senior would start at fullback.

On the forward wall will be

Zoilo Says He Was 'Lucky'

Grant, Versailles Spark Twins In First Victory

By LEW FERGUSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Jim (Mudcat) Grant said he pitched a terrible game, and Zoilo Versailles claimed he was lucky.

Between them, they led a Minnesota charge that cut down the Los Angeles Dodgers 8-2 in Wednesday's World Series opener.

Neither showed any bubbly elation.

"It was a terrible game," Grant said. "I certainly don't think it was one of my better games."

The right-hander, who won 21 games for Minnesota during the regular season, scattered 10 hits in going the distance.

"They hit the ball good, but they hit them at somebody," Grant said.

"I was relaxed," Grant added, "but I didn't have my curve ball all day. Usually when I have trouble with my curve I don't have one all day. That was the case this time. I didn't throw over 15 curves, and I didn't throw a good one until the ninth inning.

"I had a good fastball, but even my fastball has been better this year. Most of the game, I had control trouble. I was 2-2 and 3-2 on most of the hitters. Usually, I'm ahead of the hitters."

Versailles kept repeating the word "lucky" in describing his role. The spirited Cuban shortstop rapped a three-run homer in Minnesota's six-run third inning and drove in another run with a single in the sixth.

"I was pretty lucky to hit them," Versailles said. "I was lucky to hit the home run and I was lucky to get the base hit."

Twins Manager Sam Mele didn't care if Grant and Versailles were bad, lucky or anything else.

"If a pitcher can get the ball to hit them right at somebody," Mele said, "then he's a great pitcher. I never talked to Grant at all during the game. He had enough to worry about without me adding anything. I had Jim Merritt and Al Worthington warmed up late in the game, but I wasn't much concerned."

Versailles, Mele said, "stroked one when we had to have it. He's made the great plays for us all year."

Mele singled out a third Twins hero, second baseman Frank Quilici.

"He's all over the place," Mele said of the rookie infielder. "No, I wasn't surprised he got the two hits. He usually hits the ball someplace; he doesn't strike out much."

The general attitude with the Twins was that tomorrow is another day and there can be no let-up.

"You always like to win the first one and get the momentum," Mele said. "But we go one at a time — the same old story. You can't relax against those guys."

Figuring The Series

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Figuring the Series: The Minnesota Twins tied a Series record Wednesday by collecting only three assists. The record was set by the St. Louis Cardinals on Oct. 5, 1934, and equaled by the Boston Braves Oct. 6, 1948, and New York Yankees Oct. 16, 1962.

Minnesota's eight runs must have surprised most members of other National League teams. In 162 regular season games, NL opposition scored eight or more runs off Dodger pitching only seven times.

Jim Kaat of the Twins has a better batting average than the Dodgers' Sandy Koufax. The two are today's scheduled pitchers. During the regular campaign, Kaat hit .247 with 23 hits in 93 times at bat while Koufax batted .177 with 20 safeties in 113 tries.

On the mound, Koufax had a 26-8 record, 27 complete games and eight shutouts in 41 starts. Kaat managed only seven complete games in 41 starts, with two shutouts and an 18-11 record.

Third baseman Jim Gilliam was the only Dodger in Wednesday's starting line-up who started in the opening game of the Robertson has said several times he feels he is worth more money than the Royals offered him. He is believed to have received about $60,000 last year.

The Royals tripped the New York Knickerbockers, 87 - 82, Wednesday night in an exhibition game at Muncie, Ind.

Rookie Dick Vanarsdale of the Knicks scored 21 points to top both sides.

Denver Star Is Defensive Pick In AFL

By The Associated Press
Willie Brown, a Houston cut in 1963 but now a star defender with the Denver Broncos, has been named the Defensive Player of the Week in the American Football League by The Associated Press.

The Broncos' corner back has been slowed down by an injury but he finally was able to cut loose at full speed for the first time against the New York Jets Sunday.

Brown forced a fumble in a key situation by tackling Blake Turner just as he received Joe Namath's pass. John McGeever recovered on the Jets' 29 to set up Denver's first field goal in a 16-13 victory.

Brown also intercepted a desperation pass by Namath on the Denver 13 in the final seconds, halting a frantic late drive to get within field goal range. The former Grambling athlete knocked down four Namath passes, intercepted one and made five tackles.

Offense Vs. Defense In Mid-Am Tilt

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Western Michigan has the best offense in the Mid-American Conference, defending champion Bowling Green the best defense.

And those statistical leaders collide Saturday in a match of the offense which has ground out 268 yards a game and the defense which has yielded only 134 yards per game.

That battle also will match the Michigan passing game that tops the league with 131 yards a game against the Bowling Green aerial defense which has given up only 34 yards a contest.

Statistics released today by Mid-American Commissioner Bob James show unbeaten Marshall leads in rushing offense with 196 yards a game and Miami is tops in rushing defense, allowing only 91 yards a game.

Miami's Redskins rank second in total offense with 257 yards a game.

Palmer Faces Long Hitter In Ryder Cup

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — Dave Thomas, new boy of the British professional golf team, faced Arnold Palmer in a long-hitter duel today as Britain and the United States began the three-day struggle for the Ryder Cup.

They clashed in the second match of the two-ball foursomes which opened the championship schedule. Thomas was paired with George Will of Scotland while Palmer teamed with Dave Marr.

Thomas, 32-year-old bespectacled Welshman, is the longest hitter in British golf.

"I rate Dave the finest and most accurate driver in the world today," said British non-playing captain Harry Weetman.

Accuracy off the tee can prove a vital factor on the 7,037-yard, par-73 Royal Birkdale links where the cup is being decided. Some of the immensely long holes — the 493-yard first, the 517-yard 13th, the 510-yard 17th and 513-yard 18th — are lined with impenetrable jungle. Off-line tee shots can end in disaster.

Thomas looked forward to the match against Palmer, the belter of the American squad. Palmer has been taming the long holes in practice this week and shooting birdies by the dozen.

"I guess this match could become a driving duel between Arnie and me," Thomas said.

Julius Boros and Tony Lema were due to kick off for the U.S. against Lionel Platts and Peter Butler.

After the Palmer-Thomas clash, Billy Casper and Gene Littler were to face Bernard Hunt and Neil Coles with Ken Venturi and Don January against Christy O'Connor and Peter Alliss.

Byron Nelson, the American non-playing captain, said he thought O'Connor and Alliss might be Britain's strongest foursomes team.

In the last Ryder Cup match, played at Atlanta, Ga., two years ago, the United States defeated Britain by ten matches to four. That was one of 12 American victories against only three by Britain since the trophy was instituted in 1927. The British last won the cup in 1957 at Lindrick, England.

Ernie Green Is Out, Kelly Set To Start

CLEVELAND (AP) — Half-back Leroy Kelly, a handyman on specialty teams and as a substitute for Ernie Green, may get his first starting assignment Saturday night.

Green, the Cleveland Browns' regular halfback, has a hip injury described as a "pointer." "You can't believe that something like this would be so painful," he said. "It seems to be coming along, though, and I hope to be able to play this week."

If Green can't make it, Coach Blanton Collier can summon Kelly as he has done many times. Kelly and Walt Roberts are the Browns' punt and kick-off return specialists and Leroy also plays on other specialty units.

But he has seen backfield action, too. This year the 6-foot-2, 210-pounder has carried 11 times for 49 yards.

The Browns have a more serious problem at defensive tackle. Starter Jim Kanicki limped off the practice field Wednesday with a foot injury and may not be ready for the Pittsburgh Steelers Saturday.

If Kanicki can't make it, Collier can use rookie Walter Johnson, or rookie defensive end Jim Garcia.

SOLUTION OF YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

A Junior Editors Quiz About MERCURY

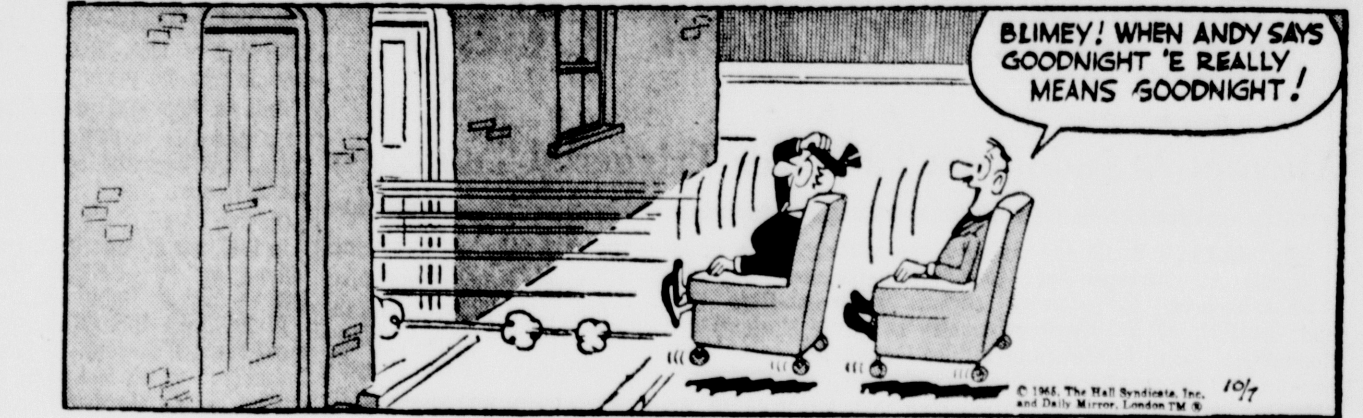

QUESTION: Why is mercury called a metal when it is a liquid?

ANSWER: We often think of a metal as a hard shiny material which conducts electricity and can be sharpened to a cutting edge. This definition is only partly true, for some metals are too soft to sharpen well. And it leaves out a most important point: all metals can be melted or fused, if heated enough. Think, for example, of iron melted in the process of making steel. Most metals need a very high temperature to melt, but mercury is an exception, for it stays in the liquid state at our usual living temperatures. Mercury can become a solid, but for this to happen, the temperature must fall to 38 degrees below zero. This strange fluid is very heavy and rolls along quickly in shining drops—it is sometimes called "quicksilver." It was named mercury from the legendary mythical Mercury, messenger of the Roman gods, who was supposed to be so fast and quick. When mercury is heated, it expands in size and when cooled, becomes smaller. This is why it is used in thermometers (right) since it keeps going up and down inside the glass tube and so tells us exactly what the temperature is.

FOR YOU TO DO: See if you can find a thermometer which has silvery looking mercury inside it and study this mysterious stuff closely. Be careful you don't break the thermometer to get a better look, however, for mercury is dangerous to handle.

Larry Bolt of Fort Collins, Colo., wins today's grand prize of a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Premature Red Coup

Attempt At Indonesia Takeover Triggered Too Soon

By WILLIAM B. RYAN
Special AP Correspondent

What happened in Indonesia had the look of a premature Communist coup. The attempt to take over the sprawling, populous nation may have been triggered too soon, but the Communists may yet be able to do the job.

At best, Indonesia faces a period of wild confusion. At worst, one of several things could happen. A Communist takeover, a civil war or even dismemberment of the potentially rich nation of 3,000 islands.

The Communists had seemed confident at one time of taking over by peaceful means if they could get by one big obstacle. The resistance of some army officers. To some observers it had seemed not a question of whether the Communists would take over, but when.

President Sukarno's increasingly close alliance with the Red Chinese may have been perilously close to a point of no return. High Red Chinese officials seemed to be interfering openly in Indonesia's internal affairs, even proposing that Sukarno arm the peasants as "volunteers to crush Malaysia."

Perhaps rumors about Sukarno's health triggered an attempted Red coup. The Communists might have expected army resistance to their aspirations if the aging, ailing Sukarno passed suddenly from the picture.

There is no constitutional provision for a successor. Sukarno made himself leader and president for life. His deputy, Subandrio, probably would be acceptable to the Communists as an interim chief of government, but there is no assurance Subandrio could take over.

Sukarno allowed the Indonesian Communist party — the PKI — to become enormously powerful, the only organized, disciplined party permitted to operate legally. It has four members in Sukarno's cabinet and one in his inner cabinet, the real power.

Sukarno's favors to the PKI alarmed the army. Communist Chief D. N. Aidit, 43, seemed almost the head of a shadow government. His second in command, Njoto, a power in the labor unions, is an inner cabinet member. His theoretician and chief strategist, Mohammed Lukman, also is a power in the cabinet. The three are the brains of the PKI politburo.

Sukarno contributed to Communist power by espousing a concept called Nasakom, meaning a government made up of one-third nationalists, one-third religious representatives (the country is mostly Moslem) and a third Communist.

The Communists began demanding that Nasakom be extended to the army command. They openly ordered infiltration of lower ranks and began luring some officers.

The coup failed. How communist it was is a matter of conjecture. Lt. Gen. Achmad Yani, the chief of staff who once before had the army on alert against a possible coup, was killed. Aidit, the Red chief, is reported in Jogjakarta, which he has labeled "the base of our revolution."

Call Goes Out To Coal Miners To Stay On Jobs

BELLAIRE, Ohio (AP) — A call for coal miners to stay on their jobs has been issued by five of the six men whose dismissal precipitated a three-state strike last month.

Workers in Eastern Ohio, Northern West Virginia and Western Pennsylvania have threatened to resume the strike Monday if the dispute over the six men is not settled by midnight Friday.

The five men, members of United Mine Workers Local 1110 at Moundsville, W. Va., signed a statement urging workers to keep all mines working "to permit our cases to be adjudicated through the machinery provided by our contract."

Karl Krafon, the sixth discharged miner at Hanna Coal Co.'s Ireland Mine at Moundsville, reportedly refused to sign the statement. Krafon is president of Local 1110.

The six miners were discharged for allegedly taking part in an unauthorized walkout. Strikers protesting their dismissal caused a 20-day, three-state shutdown that idled some 10,000 men.

Steubenville Man, 30, Charged In Kidnaping

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Frank Charles Anderson, 30, of Steubenville has been charged with kidnaping a 13-year-old girl as she walked along a street near her home last Saturday night.

Anderson was arrested by the FBI and taken to Columbus Tuesday for grand jury action after waiving a preliminary hearing and failing to post a $10,000 bond.

The FBI said Anderson took the girl into West Virginia for immoral purposes, but returned her unharmed.

Killed In Collision

CLEVELAND (AP)—Quarter-master 1st Class McKinley G. Points, 41, was killed in a two-car collision here Wednesday night. He was stationed here aboard the training ship U.S.S. Whitehall.
